NCC cadre visits Russia for exchange programme

• Vignesh V

Chemistry seems like a favourite subject for the members of G Ashwin Balaji's family. While he is pursuing his final year BSc Chemistry at Thiagarajar College in Madurai, his parents are Chemistry professors. But, there is something that Ashwin likes more than Chemistry and that is being part of the National Cadet Corps (NCC).

Ashwin was the only candidate from Tamil Nadu who visited Russia as part of the 'Youth Exchange Program (YEP)' of the Naval Unit of NCC for on August 16 this year.

The Commanding Officer of 2 (TN) Naval Unit of NCC Lieutenant Commander VP Senthil said that the units across the country train college and school students to know more about the Indian Navy. Based on their performance, 25 candidates across the nation were selected for the YEP to Russia.

Ashwin stayed in Russia from August 16 to September 3. "They were the best days of my life. I was exposed to the naval NCC unit of Russia. I handled various types of pistols and guns, especially AK-47, during my training days. The mob-control activity is one of the best things that I got through YEP. As a routine, I used to go for horse riding, swimming, running and other extracurricular activities in the camp. I also visited the chocolate factory," he said.

Ashwin got the opportunity to spend more time with his fellow cadres in Russia. He understood their way of life and culture. "We used to have two breakfasts, one lunch and two dinners a day as that is a diet that is usually followed by Russian cadres," he said.

One takeaway for Ashwin was the self-discipline of the citizens. "I saw a schoolboy eating a chocolate. After eating, he kept the wrapper instead of throwing it on the road. Same goes with men consuming alcohol. Nobody disturbs anyone," he said. He attributes his feat to Colonel Ragul Srivatsava and Colonel Peter Celastin.

His mother, Amutha, was also a NCC naval cadre during her college days. "I did not get a medical seat and engineering was not an option. Hence, I decided to do a course in Chemistry. Until I enrolled into NCC Naval unit, I had very little knowledge about the Navy," he said.

Ashwin participated in the Republic Day Camp that was held in New Delhi early this year and got a medal for his performance at the Republic Day parade. "There are 11 countries in the YEP list. However the top candidates in the list only could visit Russia," he said.

YOUNG MEN AND THE SEA

Two cadets from the National Cadet Corps recollect their lives on board a warship during their 69-day-long overseas deployment

VIGNESH V @ Madurai

FOR NCC naval wing cadets B Balakrishnan (19) and S Vignesh(18), their maiden international voyage on board an Indian Navy vessel was an unforgettable one. The young cadets distinguished themselves by being the only cadets from the State to have been selected by the Indian Navy for Overseas Deployment (OSD). They were among the 10 cadets, arguably the best of the NCC naval wing, selected from across the country for OSD.

However, it is not their selection with its numerous and rigorous tests that makes their journey worth mentioning, but an unexpected chain of events that revealed to them how committed our Navy, a true blue-water force, is when it comes the call of duty.

When the sophomores from Thiagarajar College of Arts and Science in Madurai were selected for the OSD, their excitement knew no bounds. They would be sharing the deck of a warship with some of the Navy's best. On February 27, they boarded the Indian Navy Ship (INS) Shardul, an amphibious warfare vessel, from Cochin in Kerala, bound for Mauritius, where the crew spent nearly seven days.

The ship then set sail for Durban in South Africa. During the voyage, the ship's captain received information from the command that Mozambique, a south African country, was hit by Cyclone 'Idai.' The captain was given orders to set course for the country to provide help in accordance with the International Humanitarian Aid and Disaster Relief (HADR), Balakrishnan told Express.

The cadets said that the ship reached Mozambique on March 19, 2019. The cyclone had wreak havoc in the country, leaving a trail of death and destruction in its wake. Hundreds were feared dead and even more were in dire need of medical assistance. The crew immediately started relief measures. "We had carried food for the journey, and a decision was taken to distribute the food among the people affected by the cyclone, despite the fact that this would drastically reduce food rations to the crew afterward," the cadets said.

"We spent 13 days in the cyclone hit area. Food to the crew was limited over the journey back home," they said. Upon the arrival of another ship from India, INS Shardul set sail for Seychelles, an island nation in the Indian Ocean. After an arduous 69-day mission, INS Shardul reached Indian shores on May 6.

When Express asked them what it was like on board the warship, the boys had so much to say that they did not even know where to start. "Works on board the ship was fast and precise. You will have a fixed time for taking food, and for physical activity like playing games," the boys said. They remembered with amazement and admiration the efficiency of the crew in carrying out tasks under the challenging environment on board a warship.

For Vignesh, a student of BSc physics and a social media buff, the only regret was that he could not use social media during the journey.

"I am always active on social media and consistently post events of my life. Though I have hundreds of good memories and experiences from my stay on board INS Shardul, I could not share any of them during the journey.

There was no network over the ocean. We could, however, make calls to home or friends once we reach a port," he said. Balakrishnan, who pursues BSc Microbiology, bought a mobile phone just a few days before he left for OSD. However, he was not able to put it to much use during the voyage. However, these are trivia the boys themselves talk about dismissively, for they have memories that will last a lifetime.

Speaking to Express, Commanding Officer of IInd (TN) Naval Unit of NCC Commander VP Senthil said it was only rarely that two cadets from the same unit of a State were selected for the OSD. "They were selected because of their hard work and dedication," he said.

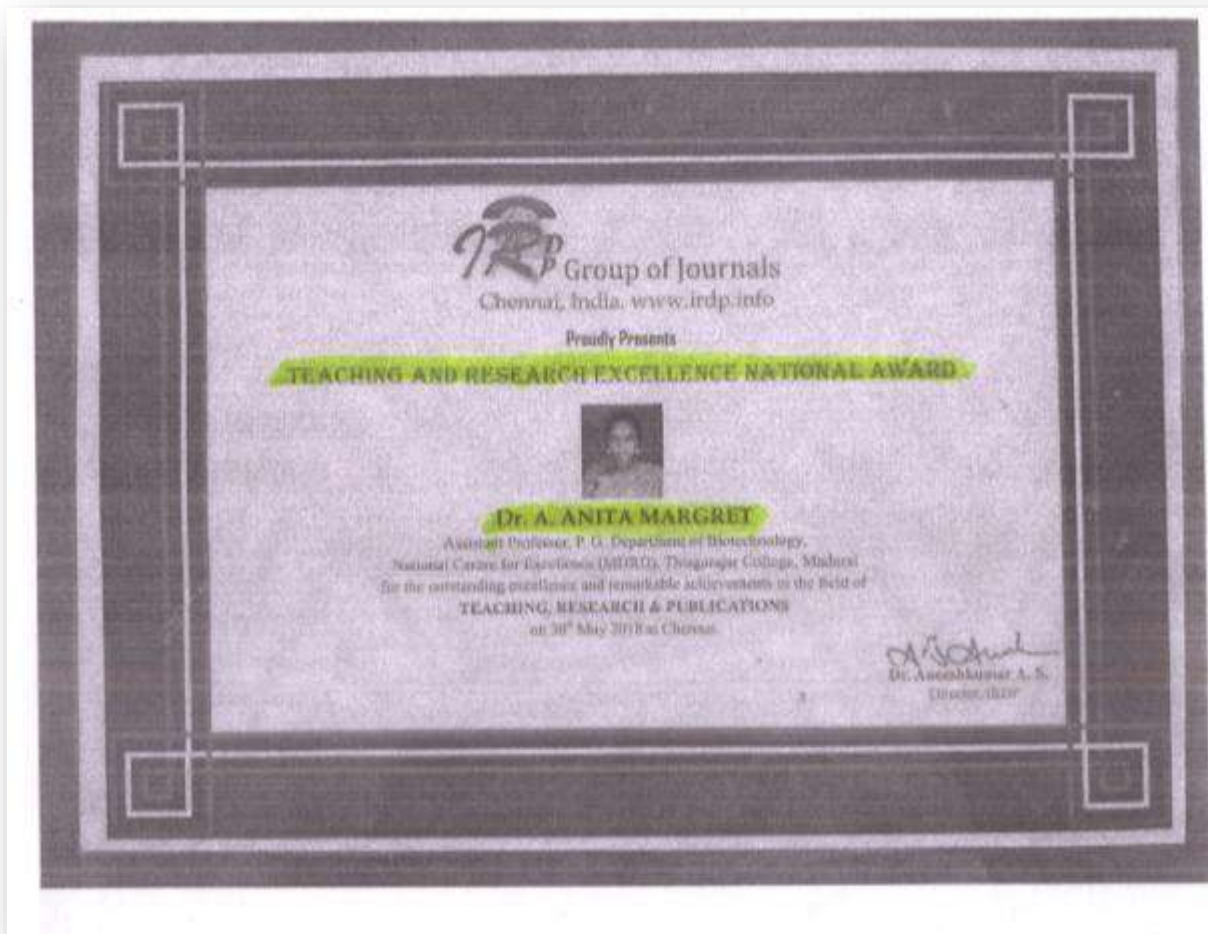

Works on board the ship was fast and precise. You will have a fixed time for taking food, and for physical activity like playing games
